Communication skills

I consider myself a person who likes to hear a variety of thoughts and visions, ready to share thoughts and always respect the opinion of others.

Organisational / managerial skills

By the rational opinions of other persons, I may say that I have good managerial and organizational skills. I can be considered a cold person, willing to always find solutions and to manage any situation. Organization of work, time and resources is one of my biggest strengths.

Job-related skills

I am very enthusiastic about teamwork and I will always be at the disposal of the team/company or client to give 100% of my capabilities and skills whenever needed.
